Subject: Expressing gratitude for educating me

Dear Mr. Carson,

I am Lee Carter, a student in your class. I am writing this letter to thank you for being kind and patient with me. I ask a lot of questions, and people often get annoyed after answering a few of them. I am used to people asking me to go to someone else when I have questions. But you have never done that with me since the time I joined your class.

Just yesterday, I kept asking questions and questions about the countries and their capitals. While my classmates were booing me, asking me to keep quiet, you patiently answered all my queries. Momma says I should thank people for kind gestures through letters, so here I am writing this letter. Thank you, Mr. Carson, for always helping me out.

Yours Sincerely,

Lee Carter
